

If you use OLS (Ordinary Least Square), you could calculate optimal weight on the data, without using probabilistic assumption on the data

But OLS has no a way to confirm how much of precision the weight has.

=====
Bootstrapping is a way to know how much of effect the result of a regression analysis takes when sample data changes which are used for regression analysis